Tanja Grandits and the art of finding yourself

Tanja Grandits has created her perfect world in the restaurant “Stucki” in Basel– a microcosm of smiles, flavours and passion for food. That is what awards her to be the best Chef in Switzerland: The ability to do what she finds best and to inspire the people around her- Guests, Employees and Colleges.

“The most important thing, which I learned in my life, as a woman, cook and mother is to do what I chose best”, says the chef and author (last publishes “Einfach Tanja”). Since 2001 she is self-employed, today she manages a small business with more than 40 employees. In 2014 she won the title of «chef of the year» for the first time and now the second title for «chef of the year 2020» from «GaultMillau», with 19 Points and 2 Stars she has been honoured with the two most important Guides.

The “Stucki” is a top restaurant, delicatessen and catering service and Tanja Grandits sustains with culinary intelligence, a great gut instinct and an infectious smile.
